LONG AND ACTIVE CAREER OF
BELOVED PIONEER ENDS—
FUNERAL SATURDAY AT SALEM

Henry Albany Jackson, pioneer resident of Milam county, died at his home in Cameron Thursday night, March 2, following an illness extending over a period of several months. He was born and reared in this county, having resided near Salem until 17 years ago, when he came to Cameron.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon, March 5, with services in the home and at the church. Rev. Ira F. Key, pastor of the Methodist church in Cameron, conducted the services. The Henne & Meyer undertaking parlors was in charge of the body.

The following tribute is taken from the funeral sermon by Rev. Ira F. Key:

Mr. Henry Albany Jackson was born near the Salem Church five miles from Cameron Dec. 22, 1852. He was reared to manhood, married and raised a family in this community and never moved away until when 17 years ago he took up his residence in Cameron. On May 19, 1878, he was married to Miss Louiza Lewis to which union seven children were born, four of whom survive and are present today, Mr. Jim Jackson, Mrs. A. B. Carlton, Miss Suzanna Jackson and Mr. Pinkney Jackson. After his first wife's death he was married again January 15, 1895 to Miss Mahola Anderson. Two children blessed this union, Oleta and Elaine, whom all of you know. In the family there was also one grandchild, Roland Jackson Carr, 12 years of age, who lives with his grandparents at Haglin, Texas.

Brother Jackson was 68 years of age old last December and had been a member of the church for 51 years joining the Salem church at the age of 17. He was an active worker all of his life, serving in the capacity of Steward or Trustees over a long period of 30 years or more. He loved his church and was interested in all of its affairs. In his last days he liked most to dwell upon those things which concerned the church and the kingdom of Jesus Christ. For more than two years he has been a suffer from a chronic trouble, but not until recently did his condition get so serious that no hope was held out. When he was told that nothing could be done for him, he seemed resigned and about nine o'clock Thursday night of March 2nd he went home to God.

Brother Jackson was a good man, faithful in all of his ways, a true father and loyal husband, providing well for his house both in material and spiritual things and in all matters representing and standing for the highest and best. What more could be said? He has done his part and has laid down his armour to take up his crown.

By Frank S. Lesovsky.

At a called meeting, held at the court house in Cameron, Tuesday, March 8th, attended by citizens from different parts of the county, in pursuance to a call issued by C. F. Drake, of the Rockdale Chamber of Commerce, county wide rat campaign was organized under the direction and with the advice of Messrs. A. E. Gray and R. R. Reppert, experts and special representatives of the Federal Government and A. & M. College, in their statewide movement to exterminate the rat.

The boy being the chief enemy of rat and the school the best and quickest organization to reach the boy, naturally the rat campaign is to be carried out through the medium of the schools of the county.

The county is divided into six divisions or districts, namely: Cameron, Rockdale, Thorndale, Buckholts, Burlington and Gause; these towns are to be the headquarters of each of the surrounding territory and their respective Commercial Clubs shall properly organize and finance the campaign in their respective districts of the county.

Each school district in the county shall be the unit of organization, to be attached to the most convenient headquarter town of the six named. Each school will be advised later, by the County Secretary, as to which district it belongs; however such school may change to another district by properly notifying the County Secretary of the change desired.

Local Executive Committees.

The teachers and trustees of each school in the county shall constitute the Local Executive Committee of such school; the principal teacher to act as their Secretary until and unless another is selected.

On this Executive Committee depends the success of the campaign in that particular school section.

District Executive Committee

Then there shall be the District Executive Committee, one for each of the six districts named. The members shall be all the teachers, trustees, commercial club officers and directors, residing in such district or subdivision of the county. The Secretary of this District Executive Committee shall be the Secretary of the Commercial Club of that town; if there be no commercial club or such secretary fail or refuse to serve, then the said Executive Committee shall select such secretary for such district.

On this District Executive Committee depends the real success of the campaign in that district.

County Executive Committee.

The County Executive Committee shall consist of all the members of the six District Executive Committees. The presiding officers of the County Executive Committee have been elected as follows:

C. F. Drake, Secretary of the Rockdale Chamber of Commerce, as County Chairman.

Dr. Tom Denson of Cameron, as Vice-Chairman.

John E. Cook of the Rockdale Reporter, as County Secretary.

J. B. White of the Cameron Herald.

FORM COMPANY TO SELL RANGER PRODUCTS HERE

LOCAL MEN INTERESTED IN TEXAS SALES COMPANY WITH TEMPORARY HEADQUARTERS HERE.

Organization of the Texas Auto Sales Company to distribute Ranger cars and Ranger products with temporary headquarters in Cameron, has been announced by W. P. Claypool, President and General Manager.

The Texas Auto Sales Company will establish permanent headquarters in Waco from which point Ranger products will be distributed in 14 counties where rights have been secured.

W. P. Claypool, President and General Manager, is a former resident of Houston where the Ranger car and products are manufactured by the Southern Motor Company.

A. J. Kahler, Vice-President of the company, is a Cameron man and well known here. D. O. Cox, Second Vice-President, and R. B. Mays, Secretary and Treasurer, are both well known local men.

The Southern Motors manufactures Ranger cars, trucks, tractors, trailers and bodies. This company is a Texas product and has been a big success from the start and is now manufacturing automobiles, tractors and other motor products.

The Texas Auto Sales Company is organized for the purpose of distributing Ranger products and is now offering opportunity to dealers in the 14 counties of which Milam is a part to get contracts to retail Ranger products.

The Ranger car recently figured in a great endurance run from Houston to Minneapolis and return, a delegation having gone to Temple from Cameron at the time to see one of the cars which took that route. The car met the acid test under most extraordinary conditions of weather and roads.

Men who have organized the Texas Auto Sales Company believe the Ranger will find a large place in sales of automobiles in this section. Particular attention will be given to the tractor as it is coming into popular use on the farms of the territory.

DR. J. L. SHABRAM TO DIRECT DIPPING IN FIGHT ON TICK

SERVES AS INSPECTOR IN COUNTY LAST YEAR—PLANS NOW COMPLETE FOR YEAR 1921

Dr. J. L. Shabram who directed the work of tick eradication in Milam county during 1920, has returned to Cameron from Kansas City and will have charge of the work during the present year. Dr. Shabram has completed all arrangements for the beginning of the work and has named all the inspectors for the county.

Dr. Shabram last year associated with Dr. Paxton in directing the work. Dr. Paxton was transferred and the county this year has been assigned to Dr. Shabram as representative of the Federal Livestock Sanitary Commission.

Milam county is still under quarantine because of the failure of a few stock owners to clean up their herds last year. The plan is to accomplish the results necessary to lift the quarantine this year.

The Commissioners' Court has made appropriation for the work and will give its undivided co-operation this year to remove the quarantine and to improve the live stock interests in this county.

Dr. Shabram and wife left Cameron Wednesday afternoon for Fort Worth where Dr. Shabram will confer with officials. They will return the latter part of this week.

Mrs. C. H. Yoe Makes Greatest Gift to City in History—Business Suspends in Honor and Appreciation of the Great Gift

By Mrs. W. A. Gillon.

The auditorium of the great Yoe High School building was overflowing twice on Tuesday at its formal opening.

In the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock a hush fell on the audience, as, led by Rev. Henry McFadyen, the Mayor of Cameron, the trustees of Mrs. Yoe, Mrs. Yoe and the school board, Mr. Kid and Miss Ada Henderson marched in and took their places.

Prof. J. E. Watts, of Taylor, former and much loved superintendent of Cameron High School entered the building and was called to a seat of honor.

Miss Ada Henderson, ever-faithful teacher in the Cameron schools since the beginning of her life as a teacher, presided and in a few well chosen appropriate, and loving words called to mind the auspicious occasion, that Cameron was today the recipient of the most magnificent gift in the history of her existence, that it was fitting to come together to honor and thank the donor, Mrs. C. H. Yoe and pay tribute to the late Mr. C. H. Yoe, whose plan was not perfected before his death.

With Miss Henderson introducing in a graceful way, suitable to each, the following program was carried out:

1. Invocation—Rev. H. R. MacFadyen.
2. Piano Solo—Mr. Robert Smith.
3. Presentation of C. H. Yoe High School Building to the Public Free School System of Cameron Mrs. Carrie Yoe.
4. Response—
5. Music—Miss Ruth Sprinkel, Mr. Paul Medsker.
6. Dedicatory Address—Hon. T. S. Henderson.
7. Benediction—Rev. H. R. MacFadyen.

When Mrs. Yoe was introduced the entire assembly rose to its feet in expression of its appreciation and love of the donor. Mrs. Yoe then presented to Cameron through her trustees the deed, etc and dedicated one room to the memory of Lawless Green.

When she took her seat the applause was so prolonged that Mrs. Yoe rose, bowed and with the sweetest smile, threw a kiss.

Hon. T. S. Henderson made the dedicatory address, saying in part that this day marked the greatest day in the history of Cameron. Expressed his personal pleasure in being the one chosen as the instrument of bringing the message to the people.

That the citizenship of Cameron honored Mrs. Yoe by closing their houses of business and turned out in full to be present on this occasion.

Next the building was taken as a theme and a tribute paid its material worth—that the very best of everything was put into its construction and there was absolutely nothing lacking.

WITH CLOSING OF TRADE FOR

Maysfield may soon become active again as a drilling center in the Milam county oil territory following the closing of a contract recently for acreage by local parties in association with outside capital.

A word picture of the boy, Charlie Yoe, was very beautifully given. A boy born and raised in a village near Frankfort on the Rhine, his dreams of the new country, his coming over in early manhood and becoming not in part, but wholly a true American citizen.

And it was in the city of Cameron nearly fifty years ago that Charlie Yoe chose as his helpmeet a "Texas Wild Flower," Carrie Meyers, and all along life's journey they worked and toiled together and for the past twenty years this magnificent plan, now complete, had been forming, developing and growing bigger until this great day of its full completion. A tribute to his high business integrity, his never-wavering purpose in life was beautifully expressed, and in closing, Mr. Henderson called upon the citizenship of Cameron, as Mr. and Mrs. Yoe had dedicated themselves and given this magnificent gift to Cameron and all her posterity, so let us, each and every one, dedicate ourselves to do something great or small in consecrated effort to promote, up-build, our little city of Cameron morally, socially and intellectually.

At 8 o'clock the opening recital was given and the following splendid program rendered by Cameron's own musicians, was in keeping with the occasion:

1. Piano—March Militaire—Schubert—Mr. Robert Smith.
2. Reading—Selected—Miss Henrietta Clark.
3. Voice—Sing, Robin, Sing—Spross—Mrs. J. L. Clinton.
4. Piano—Romance—Sibelius—Miss Ruth Sprinkel.
5. Voice—The Nightingale's Song—Nevin—Mrs. W. T. Hefley.
6. Violin—7th Concerto—DeBeriot—Mr. Paul Medsker.
7. Voice—The Wind's in the South—Scott—Miss Clara Curtis.
8. Reading—Faro's Daughter—Miss Minnie Wolf.
9. Piano—Valse de Concert—Wienawski—Mrs. R. P. Jeter.
10. Voice—Selected—Mr. Robert Pool.
11. Piano—Lustspiel Overture—Keller-Bela—Miss Sprinkel, Mrs. Jeter.

Mrs. R. P. Jeter presided and expressed great sorrow at the absence of Mrs. W. T. Hefley, whose fine voice is so loved, and appreciated by the Cameron people.

Robert Pool, one of Cameron's own boys, now a Glee Club member at Baylor University, gave several numbers each time the applause was so great he was obliged to return.

Space forbids mentioning all but the reading—"Faro's Daughter" by Miss Minnie Wolf just brought down the house when she shouted just like the old Southern plantation negro.

Let the Cameron Herald and its entire force add its feeble thanks and appreciation for its share in this grand gift of Mrs. Yoe and ask God's blessing and long life and health upon her.

of the Hohenstein Well on the Isaacs farm four miles southeast of Cameron two weeks ago. In the early part of 1920 drilling was active in the Maysfield section.

TEXAS MARKETING
LAW NOTABLE ONE

Dallas, Texas, March 8.—The co-operative Marketing Bill, known as House Bill No. 227, written by Aaron Sapiro, California marketing expert, and signed by Governor Neff today, is the most comprehensive marketing law ever passed in the Southern States, according to Walston Petet, Director of Marketing Organizations in the Texas Farm Bureau, who was in Austin last week in the interest of the bill. This bill makes possible the co-operative marketing of farm products under the California plan and was written by Mr. Sapiro for the Texas Farm Bureau Federation.

Mrs. Bertha Barrett and son, Robert Lee, have returned home after a pleasant visit to friends in Temple.

OAKDALE HAPPENINGS

Edited by Mrs. Sid Hause

Oakdale, March 8.—Most every farmer in this part of the country is busy this morning planting corn or something else.

Once again Oakdale had a preacher with them Sunday, and will have the same one for the next two Sundays. They had a very nice congregation and an extra good sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ethridge of Hoyte were at preaching and spent the balance of the day with their old friends, the Fisher family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Baldwin of Rice were there and took dinner with his sister, Mrs. Lee Batey. Thomas Batey came over from Rice and came over to see his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hensley spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Angel near Watts Switch.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Hause were in Cameron Saturday evening and went on to Curry and spent the night with his son and family, spent a very pleasant time and returned home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. A. R. O'Neal, wife, Aunt Fannie Turnham and Mrs. Hawbaker of Wichita Falls were in Cameron Saturday afternoon to see Mrs. Walker Arledge of near Rockdale, who had come to the Cameron Hospital. They say she is doing fine.

There was an entertainment at the Hoyte Hall Friday night.

Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Williams had a good crowd. A very pleasant time, as they always do at Mrs. Williams.

Mr. Enoch Fisher and son, Frank, were trading in Cameron last Thursday.

There was a singing at Mr. and Mrs. Jim Baker's Sunday. That is another thing the preaching does here they always have singing on the Sunday nights.

Messrs W. C. Mobley and J. H. Thompson traded in Cameron last Wednesday.

Last Thursday Mr. G. W. Batey sold eggs in Cameron.

One day last week Mr. John Arledge was to see his brother in Rockdale.

Mr. Joe Ethridge, Jack Nicholson, Frank Pressley and several others from Hoyte were in Cameron Saturday.

While I was in Cameron Saturday we saw Mr. and Mrs. George Henderson of Walkers Creek there having a good time shaking hands with friends.

Mr. Ed Todd of Belmena was shaking hands with friends in Cameron Saturday.

Mrs. John Luce and Mrs. Hensley of Ad Hall came to Cameron Saturday to see friends and to trade also.

Mrs. Smith of Marlow and several others from Ad Hall were in Cameron Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Pickett of the Marlow community was greeting old time friends in Cameron Saturday. She had her family with her last Friday.

Mrs. Ashenbeck and son, Theo, went to Rosebud to see relatives and some of them came home with them.

I am glad that Cameron took up the Rat Campaign. Hope later there will not be so many rats. There has been about thirty-four caught on the Sid Hause place and several rabbits and a few mice. We need to get rid of all such things, for they eat up lots of things we raise to eat ourselves.

Mrs. J. B. Newton had a reunion last Sunday. She had her daughters, Mrs. Joe Elam of Franklin, Mrs. L. G. Butts of Thorndale, Mrs. Arrington and Miss Clyde Newton of Thrall.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith of Milano were called last Thursday to the bedside of his father who was very ill at Jacksonville.

The following remarkable statement was made recently by Mrs. Alice Gresham Dodd, the mother of Corporal Jas. B. Gresham, who was the first American soldier killed in France. The statement was made at the Gresham Memorial Home, which was presented to her by the patriotic people of Indiana as an evidence of their appreciation of the services rendered to his country by her son.

The shock of her son's death resulted in a serious breakdown in Mrs. Dodd's health, but every one will learn with interest and pleasure that she is now in splendid health again. Mrs. Dodd gives the entire credit for her recovery to the celebrated medicine, Tanlac.

She said: "After my dear boy's death I had a general breakdown in health. At first it was just indigestion. My food would upset me and I had to diet myself very carefully. I also had rheumatism with severe pains in my shoulders, back and arms and at times I would suffer greatly, and my joints would become swollen and stiff. I was hardly able to do but very little about the house and at times could not even cook a meal. I became very nervous and restless and at night would lie awake for hours.

"A friend of mine advised me to try Tanlac. I was glad I did, for it proved to be the best medicine I have ever taken. It soon gave me a splendid appetite and relieved me entirely of indigestion. My rheumatism also disappeared and I am now able to do my house-work with the greatest ease. My nerves are steady and strong. I sleep well at night and my health is better than in years. I shall always be grateful for what Tanlac has done for me."

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results.

EARTH-BOUND—NEW HEFLEY THEATRE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, MAR. 11 and 12

The Story of the Play.

"No God, no sin, no future life. Nothing but the survival of the fittest, and every man for himself."

That was the creed that two intimate friends, Jim Rittenshaw and Dick Desbrough, subscribed to in their college days. To bind themselves to it more firmly they wrote it out in contract form and signed their names to it. But when they sought to enlist another friend, Harvey Breck, he refused, and over his signature wrote upon the fateful page "All Tommy-rot." But Dick and Jim lived by their ruthless creed and achieved wealth and success—all the material comforts and luxuries that life can offer.

Then came the day when Dick Desbrough and Jim Rittenshaw's wife, Daisy, became enamoured of each other. By the creed, Dick ignored the claims of his own wife and his little daughter upon him and Rittenshaw, too, should have been willing to surrender to the victor without protest. But when Jim learned of the duplicity of his wife and best friend his belief in the dangerous creed was swept away in an overpowering desire for revenge. To prevent Dick's elopement with his wife, Jim, armed with a pistol, sets out to kill his friend at the club where he knows Dick has an appointment.

The two men meet on the broad stairway of the club. Nonchalantly, Dick walks half way up the stairway and smiles at Jim with extended hand. Jim's answer is a shot that brings instant death and Dick's body falls backward down the stairs. As it comes to rest on the floor below the spiritual body of the dead man becomes visible and takes its place beside Jim on the stairs.

Dick's spirit, instead of being free to move forward, finds itself earth-bound and must remain thus until he has atoned for his sins and has worked out his problems on earth. From then on the spirit of Dick tries valiantly to communicate with his broken hearted wife, with Jim Rittenshaw, who, because he does not wish to incriminate his wife, has refused to make a defense against the murder charge brought against him, and with Daisy Rittenshaw, who alone can save Jim by confessing her guilt. But the work is slow and at times almost hopeless.

The first to see the spirit of Dick is his little daughter, next Harvey

Breck becomes conscious of Dick's presence at the club one day and makes himself ridiculous in the eyes of the other members by speaking to the spirit. Later Dick appears to Dr. Roger Galloway in the church of which he is rector. Dr. Galloway speaks to Dick and tells him that he must straighten out the trouble he has caused before he can go on. By bandoning his sinful desires Dick is made better fitted for the task before him and finally succeeds in influencing the actions of those with whom he associated in life so that Daisy is moved to make a voluntary confession before the jury, thereby saving Jim's life. But Dick is still earthbound and cannot obtain his release until he wins the forgiveness of his wife. She is the last to see him in the spirit, but when finally she does she gives him her whole-hearted forgiveness and instantly Dick is set free to progress in the spirit world and the last that is seen of him is as he is walking onward toward a new and higher goal.

TAX EXEMPT BONDS NUMEROUS ARTICLE

Dallas, Texas, March 9.—The action of the Supreme Court in holding Federal Farm Loan Act as valid is a matter of great importance, according to officials of the Texas Farm Federation, who expressed themselves as being very pleased with the decision. The action against the Federal Land Bank Act has directed attention in a very strong way to the entire matter of tax exempt bonds. H. C. McKenzie, who has been investigating federal taxes for the American Farm Bureau Federation, says that the total amount of tax exempt bonds in the United States, including State, county, municipal, school, road and special bonds, will total from $16,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000. These bonds have been bought in large numbers in recent years by wealthy persons, he declares, because they are tax exempt, and if they were all placed in the hands of men with $100,000 income and up, none of these men would have to pay one cent of income tax.

During the delay of the Supreme Court in rendering its decision, President Howard of the Farm Bureau had several conferences with banks and real estate men, at which he pointed out the absurdity of attacking the Federal Land Bank Act because its bonds are tax exempt, and allowing to pass unchallenged the enormous amount of land and other tax exempt bonds. Mr. Howard served notice that if the Federal Land Bank Act had been declared unconstitutional, the farmers of the country would have insisted on all other bonds being subject to taxation.

TEXAS MARKETING LAW NOTABLE ONE

Dallas, Texas, March 8.—The co-operative Marketing Bill, known as House Bill No. 227, written by Aaron Sapiro, California marketing expert, and signed by Governor Neff today, is the most comprehensive marketing law ever passed in the Southern States, according to Walston Peteet, Director of Marketing Organizations in the Texas Farm Bureau, who was in Austin last week in the interest of the bill. This bill makes possible the co-operative marketing of farm products under the California plan and was written by Mr. Sapiro for the Texas Farm Bureau Federation.

"This law represents the last word in rural co-operative laws in the United States and leading members of the Legislature told me that they regard it as the most important law passed by the present Legislature," Mr. Peteet said.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a general strengthening tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or disintegrate the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 75c per bottle.

PHYSICIANS SELDOM PRESCRIBE OWN HOUSEHOLDS

Dr. McAllister Treated His Own Wife Successfully.

A case of interest to the medical profession is made public by a letter to Nash Brothers, the manufacturing druggists, by Dr. A. G. McAllister, of Cash, Arkansas. He was away from town when his wife contracted pneumonia and of course another doctor was called to treat her. Dr. Nunn was giving a light purgative and keeping Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve on the chest, covered with flannel, on which was kept a hot water bottle.

When Dr. McAllister arrived home and learned what his colleague was doing he said, "Doctor, you have done exactly what I would have done." He continued the treatment himself.

Meanwhile, his wife who had twice before had pneumonia, made arrangements to die, but under her husband's treatment passed the danger point in three days and within a short time was out of bed. Dr. McAllister says, he will take a Bible oath that Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve saved his wife's life. Since that time he uses this treatment consistently in his practice.

Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve relieves colds, coughs, croup and pneumonia in short order. It is to be had at nearly all druggists in 30 cent and 60 cent bottles. Sold by Avera & Read, Cameron, Texas.

EARTH-BOUND—NEW HEFLEY THEATRE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, MAR. 11 and 12

The Story of the Play.

"No God, no sin, no future life. Nothing but the survival of the fittest, and every man for himself."

That was the creed that two intimate friends, Jim Rittenshaw and Dick Desbrough, subscribed to in their college days. To bind themselves to it more firmly they wrote it out in contract form and signed their names to it. But when they sought to enlist another friend, Harvey Breck, he refused, and over his signature wrote upon the fateful page "All tommyrot." But Dick and Jim lived by their ruthless creed and achieved wealth and success—all the material comforts and luxuries that life can offer.

Then came the day when Dick Desbrough and Jim Rittenshaw's wife, Daisy, became enamoured of each other. By the creed, Dick ignored the claims of his own wife and his little daughter upon him and Rittenshaw, too, should have been willing to surrender to the victor without protest. But when Jim learned of the duplicity of his wife and best friend his belief in the dangerous creed was swept away in an overpowering desire for revenge. To prevent Dick's elopement with his wife, Jim, armed with a pistol, sets out to kill his friend at the club where he knows Dick has an appointment.

The two men meet on the broad stairway of the club. Nonchalantly, Dick walks half way up the stairway and smiles at Jim with extended hand. Jim's answer is a shot that brings instant death and Dick's body falls backward down the stairs. As it comes to rest on the floor below the spiritual body of the dead man becomes visible and takes its place beside Jim on the stairs.

Dick's spirit, instead of being free to move forward, finds itself earth-bound and must remain thus until he has atoned for his sins and has worked out his problems on earth. From then on the spirit of Dick tries valiantly to communicate with his broken hearted wife, with Jim Rittenshaw, who, because he does not wish to incriminate his wife, has refused to make a defense against the murder charge brought against him, and with Daisy Rittenshaw, who alone can save Jim by confessing her guilt. But the work is slow and at times almost hopeless.

The first to see the spirit of Dick is his little daughter, next Harvey Breck becomes conscious of Dick's presence at the club one day and makes himself ridiculous in the eyes of the other members by speaking to the spirit. Later Dick appears to Dr. Roger Galloway in the church of which he is rector. Dr. Galloway speaks to Dick and tells him that he must straighten out the trouble he has caused before he can go on. By abandoning his sinful desires Dick is made better fitted for the task before him and finally succeeds in influencing the actions of those with whom he associated in life so that Daisy is moved to make a voluntary confession before the jury, thereby saving Jim's life. But Dick is still earthbound and cannot obtain his release until he wins the forgiveness of his wife. She is the last to see him in the spirit, but when finally she does she gives him her whole-hearted forgiveness and instantly Dick is set free to progress in the spirit world and the last that is seen of him is as he is walking onward toward a new and higher goal.

Ten per cent of all the profits from the exhibition of "The Skywayman," Lt. Ormer Locklear's last picture, a William Fox production which is to be shown at the Auditorium Theater beginning Friday is to be given to the families of Locklear and his pilot, Lt. Milton Elliott, by Fox Film Corporation.

A crusader for science, Lt. Locklear has appealed to the imagination as no other airman has done. He will live in history as the first flyer to go from one airplane to another in mid air—a feat which first thrilled the world and then opened the eyes of scientists and experts to the new possibilities of aircraft. So highly were his experiments appreciated that the United States army gave him the free use of its flying fields.

"The Skywayman" is more than a thrilling picture. It contains a record of all that Locklear has done. It will show future generations what manner of man was this young American air explorer who taught the world so much. In the story Locklear plays the part of a member of the Lafayette Escadrille who loses his memory as the result of a crash in France, and then, on his return to America, fails to recognize his old friends. His plight leads him into a series of adventures which call forth all his aeronautic skill.

A race with an express train, a collision with a church steeple and a dozen other daring exploits are brought out with startling realism. The photography is said to be excellent. There are some "close-ups" of Locklear taken thousands of feet above the earth.

The story of "The Skywayman" was written by Julius G. Furthman.

"GODLESS MEN"—AN EXCEPTION TO THE RULE WHICH IS "KEEP PUBLIC FOOLED"

New Hefley Wednesday and Thursday March 9th and 10th

When the manuscript of "Godless Men" was handed to Reginald Barker of the Goldwyn Studios, he expressed doubt as to whether the picture could be made—as a Reginald Barker production.

"There is only one way that I will make this picture," he said. "If you get two actors who are willing to do what I want them to do, all right—we'll get to work. Otherwise, I'm out."

How often is a motion picture retained in the memory of the public because it had a real fight in it? Nearly everyone knows the saying, "You can fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all of the time." Mr. Barker knew this, and he knew that "Godless Men," which comes to the New Hefley Wednesday and Thursday, March 9th and 10th is the kind of picture in which the public can't be fooled. That is why this Goldwyn picture has a real fight—the kind of a fight where the actors were willing to sacrifice their physical well-being for the sake of their art—the kind of a fight where they lose themselves so deeply in the action preceding the battle, that they cannot do aught else but engage in the genuine thing.

Only one or two things have gone on record as containing a fight that was not faked. "Godless Men" is one of these pictures.

The theatregoers will like this picture and this fight, because he will understand when he sees it why Black Pawl all but kills his own son Red Pawl in the combat. Russell Simpson and James Mason play the two characters. Helene Chadwick is the leading woman.

Plans are being made to take the children of the Baptist Sunday school out to the Helmcamp meadow, about one mile south of town, and let them enjoy hunting Easter eggs. This is a beautiful meadow and will make an ideal place for an Easter frolic.

WOMAN DUMB THREE DAYS TALKS IN FIVE MINUTES

Direct Opposite of Miriam Rubin Case Found in Wisconsin

MIRIAM RUBIN.

The "babbling girl" of Waukegan, whose relief from attack of talking sickness stirred the healing professions of the entire nation. She is 8 years old.

Without warning, 8-year-old Miriam Rubin of Waukegan, Ill., was stricken by a strange malady which so affected her vocal organs that she talked without cessation—night and day—for ten days.

The family physician and later, eminent consultants, were summoned to interpose their scientific knowledge and skill in endeavors to save the child from what appeared certain death by exhaustion.

Hour after hour they requisitioned the lore of the world of science, bending every effort toward stilling in sleep the voice of the small sufferer. But surcease in sleep was not attainable. Every form of sedative administered proved ineffective.

Girl Grows weaker

Daily the child became weaker. The specialists in attendance admitted they were baffled and hope of saving the girl dwindled.

The attention of the whole world was drawn to the fight being made to save the life of the babbling youngster and cures were suggested by the score from all parts of the country.

At this point Dr. Paul O. Berger, a chiropractor, of Waukegan, stepped forward with the confident assertion that he could save the child's life. He asked an opportunity to give evidence of his ability. Dr. R. H. T. Nesbitt, the family physician, and two consultants agreed.

Dr. Berger was given full charge of the case. Other treatment of every kind was discontinued.

Blames Displaced Vertebra

Dr. Berger said a dislocated vertebra had impinged on the nerves controlling the organ of speech. He made an examination which confirmed his diagnosis and then, with a deft twist of his fingers, snapped the vertebra back into place.

Night and day the child had prattled unceasingly of "mamma" and "daddy," her doll, her teacher and the childhood concerns of herself and her playmates.

Soon afterward little Miriam, for the first time in ten days, slept and her babbling had ceased.

Cure in Opposite Case

Now comes word of an opposite case in which resort to a chiropractor effected a cure.

It is that of Mrs. Lawrence E. Oleson of Owen, Wis. The chiropractor was Dr. F. G. Lundy of Marshfield, Wis.

Mrs. Oleson had been stricken dumb. For three days she had not uttered a word. Specialists from Madison, Wis., were unable to relieve her.

Mrs. Oleson visited Doctor Lundy's office at 11:50 p. m. Five minutes later the diagnosis had been made and at 11:57 p. m. Mrs. Oleson regained the use of her voice. She appeared none the worse for her experience.

Doctor Berger's Method

Dr. Berger, in diagnosing the ailment of the Rubin child, placed the little patient on a chair; with spine bared to the waist. He placed a pad beside him containing a chart of the spine and its vertebrae.

Then he began running trained fingers along the spinal column and making checks upon his chart.

"Here it is," said Dr. Berger. "As I suspected, the second and fifth vertebrae were found to be out of place. One of them has pinched the nerves which control the organ of speech. The other, perhaps, is causing her wakefulness and her high fever. If you will place your fingers in this position, Dr. Nesbitt, you will observe the misalignment."

Dr. Nesbitt agreed with the diagnosis.

"And now," said Dr. Berger, "to spring them back into place."

The chiropractor's strong hands exerted pressure upon the child's small back. There was an audible snap. The child emitted a sigh.

Responded by Sleep.

Shortly thereafter her temperature dropped four degrees and she lapsed into the first slumber she has had for a week.

"There will be more trouble," said Dr. Berger. "The muscles will again pull the vertebrae out of alignment. Recurring treatment will be necessary until this abnormality is overcome. But I hope that we have struck the right track."

When she awakened she immediately began babbling again about "teacher," her "dolls," "mamma" and other objects closest to her heart.

But she talked less rapidly and more coherently, and last night fell asleep again for an hour and a half.

Her fever subsided and Dr. Nesbitt soon thereafter stated the improvement in the child's condition was quite marked.

Affidavit in Rubin Case

When the news of the child's recovery was flashed abroad a storm of scientific discussion was precipitated. Anticipating criticism of scoffers, friends of Dr. Berger advised him to make affidavit from the time she became ill and was talking constantly and continuously for eight days.

"That during that time Miriam Rubin did not sleep, but merely continued to talk. Dr. R. H. Nesbitt of Waukegan, Ill., the family physician, was called shortly after she became ill. Dr. Brown, county physician of Waukegan, was called for consultation, and in addition there were called into the case the following physicians, specialists, from Chicago; Dr. Robert B. Preble, 30 N. Michigan Ave.; Dr. Alonzo C. Tenney, 25 E. Washington St., and Dr. Isaac Abt, 104 S. Michigan Ave., all of whom immediately made all necessary blood tests and examinations, and their prognosis did not disclose the nature of the malady, and they were unable from their examinations and diagnosis of the case to offer any solution or remedy for the patient, and during all of this time the patient continued to talk constantly as before without any sleep whatsoever.

"That on the ninth day of her illness Dr. Paul O. Berger, a practicing chiropractor in Waukegan was called to treat the patient and found upon examination of the spinal column that the patient had two misplaced vertebrae in the neck, one of which pinched the nerve affecting the speech center of the brain.

"And that on the ninth day he administered two chiropractic adjustments to the said patient, and that after a lapse of about twelve hours, and during the tenth day of the illness of the patient, she showed marked and noticeable improvement and for the first time during her illness slept for brief periods, her temperature became lower than it had been at any time during the nine days of her illness; that the said Dr. Paul O. Berger continued to administer the chiropractic adjustments daily for about three days, and that at the end of three days the patient had ceased talking and the symptoms of the malady entirely disappeared, the patient was resting and sleeping soundly and that her present condition is normal.

Curiosity Awakened

In response to requests for information as to the nature of the new science, The Herald and Examiner has secured from a practitioner of note an exposition of its peculiar merits, which it publishes merely as a matter of information without indorsing the claims of its exponents.

Chiropractic is based, its exponents say, on the fact that disease is the result of pressure upon the nerves.

Further, they declare there is only one place in the body where such a pressure can exist, where the nerve trunks are given off from the spinal cord and pass between the bony segments which form the spinal column.

Segments Grow Abnormal

Here there are found small openings, which normally are of ample size to accommodate the nerve trunk without producing pressure. It is only when these body segments assume abnormal position that the openings are made smaller and compression results.

To understand how such a pressure upon nerves can affect tissues in remote organs, chiropractors assert, one must realize something of the function of the nervous system. The chiropractor explains that every tissue or organ in the body is supplied by nerve fibers which originate in the brain. It is the function of these fibers to carry messages from the brain to the body and from remote parts of the body back to the brain.

That an intelligence exists which operates through the brain no one questions. Of the activities of this intelligence we are not entirely aware, they say. The chiropractor pictures this intelligence as operating through the brain and directing all activities in the body. Like an untiring operator at a telegraph office this innate (inborn) intelligence sends messages to the organs and controls their every activity.

Nerve Fibers Criterion

There must be no interference offered to these messages by compression upon the nerve trunk. When such a pressure does exist the messages are hindered to such an extent that they cannot be fully expressed. As a result the organ or organs supplied by that particular nerve trunk are deficient in their activities.

Whether the abnormality expresses itself in one form or another depends entirely upon the character of the nerve fibers involved. If they are motor fibers the result is a muscular weakness; if they are nutritive fibers, the result is atrophy or wasting; while if they are secretory fibers the compression results in a lack of secretion, etc.

Thus, it is explained, it can be readily seen that the character of the disease depends entirely upon the type of fibers involved by pressure, while the location of the disease depends upon what part of the spine has misplaced segments.

Twenty-five years ago chiropractic was but a theory in the mind of a more or less fanatical magnetic healer, Dr. D. D. Palmer. Today it numbers over 10,000 practitioners and millions who subscribe to its principles.

Today it is legally recognized by twenty-three states of the Union and in more than one foreign country. It also boasts the largest nontherapeutic school in the world. All this has been accomplished, chiropractors show, very largely through the indomitable will of Dr. B. J. Palmer, son of the discoverer and president of the School of Chiropractic at Davenport, Iowa.

Dr. Berger Trained There

There Dr. Berger was trained in his profession. While having the advantage of the largest clinic in the world at Davenport, Dr. Berger says he has never before seen a case of talking sickness under a chiropractor's care. It is his opinion that this very rare condition having responded to the chiropractic method is the first of its kind on record.

Asked his opinion relative as to how the spinal segments can be displaced, Dr. Berger said they were usually the result of strains or injuries incurred through falls or other accident.

These falls often mark the beginning of a spinal disorder which may not manifest itself in active form for weeks, months or years. In the case of Miriam Rubin inquiry revealed that she suffered a severe fall about three years ago. The effects of this fall were not noticeable at that time, but, according to Dr. Berger, have been gradually accumulating until they finally culminated in this unusual malady.

Many trivial falls, jars or strains received since have undoubtedly added to the abnormal condition, Dr. Berger said.

DR. BERGER'S OWN STORY OF THE CURING OF MIRIAM RUBIN

BY DR. PAUL O. BERGER

I was called to attend the Rubin child Saturday evening, February 12. Arriving at the child's home, I noted the extremely depressive atmosphere that pervaded the household. The mother and father were pacing the floor in their anxiety and despair.

Dr. Nesbitt arrived shortly after I did and we immediately went into consultation. Among other things, it was apparent the child could not live unless something was done speedily. Sedatives had no effect whatever.

The most distressing symptoms were the constant delirious talking, restlessness and thrashing about bed; arms and legs never still, voice becoming inaudible, delusion such as pictures moving on the wall and women in bathing, yet her temperature was not sufficiently high to cause delirium.

SOUGHT SEAT OF TROUBLES

The question confronting me was to locate the center of the disturbance. This was simple, as the governing power of speech, as every one well knows, lies in the brain.

Having located the seat of the trouble, it was simple for me as a chiropractor to locate the cause. I want to state right here that wherever there is a disease or inharmonious condition in the human body, not directly caused by trauma, there is always in every case a corresponding vertebrae out of alignment and vice versa.

I expected either the first or second cervical vertebrae subluxated (partially displaced), and was not disappointed, as I found the axis or second vertebrae very much over to the right. I called the family physician's attention to this displacement and upon placing his fingers where I had mine, he readily detected the same.

I was confident the cause existed at this point, having often relieved conditions in the head and brain by adjustment at this point in the spine.

SNAPPED VERTEBRA BACK

I gave an adjustment immediately, snapping the vertebra into its proper position. Also noticing the fifth vertebra out of alignment, I made adjustment at this point, as the nerves emitting here affect the organs of speech.

The patient was then allowed to recline until 9 o'clock that evening, at which time the adjustment was repeated. During the night the patient was more comfortable and not so restless; a marked improvement had taken place.

The nerves, being freed from the pressure, nature's wonderful healing forces were permitted to take up the work of restoring harmony. This was all the more remarkable as all sedative which had been freely administered with no effect whatever had also been discontinued.

The next morning the child fell into a natural sound sleep of one hour's duration, the first real rest from the ceaseless talking, the outstanding symptoms which had characterized this malady for nine days.

That evening I called to make another adjustment and found the little girl sound asleep. From this period on adjustments were given twice daily, with the result that the talking rapidly abated and entirely ceased on the third day.

GERMANS ANGER ALLIED STATESMEN ON REPARATIONS

MAY USE FORCE TO MAKE HUN PAY BIG WAR DEBT TO THE NATIONS

London, March 2.—Regarded in official quarters as a consummate bluff, Germany's offer of $7,790,000,000 in settlement of her war bill of $55,000,000,000 has been received with sheer amazement by allied diplomats. "And it is wholly possible that Foreign Minister Von Simons, in offering one-eighth of what the entente demanded, has so overplayed his hand that the allies will refuse to negotiate further, putting into effect instead the military and economic penalties for nonfulfillment of the Versailles treaty terms, crushing the indemnity out of the Nation since it can not be coaxed out."

The Allied Supreme Council will deliver a formal reply to the German counter proposals on reparation only after a further consultation with their military experts, which will be held Wednesday. The decision will be submitted to Von Simons and the German delegation on Thursday.

This official announcement, coming after a prolonged session Tuesday afternoon, at which, the communique stated, "the nature of the statement to Germany was considered," and coupled with the undisguised attitude of the allied Premiers towards Von Simons' "astounding proposal to pay one-eighth of what was demanded," is taken to indicate that the allies have practically given up hope of forcing Germany to pay through negotiation, and that they will put into effect certain military pressure under plans already mapped out by allied strategists.

The experts will be called in at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, and the character of the response to Von Simons will be determined at noon.

It has been predicted that Von Simons would plead poverty. They were disposed to listen to any reasonable proposals by the German Foreign Minister, but the surprising offer brought to a sudden end by any disposition on the part of the allied Premiers to listen to the army of economic experts presented by the Germans to back up their arguments. Accordingly, the delegation was immediately dismissed and told to return for an answer on Wednesday. In view of the brief statement of Lloyd George at the close of the morning session, after Von Simons had read his two-hour speech, there is little doubt as to what the reply will be.

Situation Is Serious

Lloyd George said:

"Germany appears to misunderstand completely the realities of the situation. The Allies already have agreed that such a proposal is totally unacceptable."

Von Simons told his colleagues after the conference that he regarded the situation as serious. Particularly in view of Lloyd George's remarks, but that he hoped a better feeling would prevail after the Entente diplomats had time to study the German memorandum.

Other German delegates pointed out that Lloyd George had given no study to the written documents in the case, and several said emphatically that Germany had made a maximum offer and that even should the Allies agree to negotiate further, no increase in the present proposal would be made.

German Conditions

It was officially given out that, preliminary to any payment whatsoever, the Germans made the following conditions:

1. The plebiscite in upper Silesia must be favorable to Germany.
2. World commerce must be freed from its present restrictions.
3. Economic freedom and equality of rights must be established throughout the world.

The proposed 12 per cent tax on all German exports was ignored by Von Simons on the grounds that "it would be impossible to force the consumer or German industry to consent to its application."

Von Simons also added that the annual payments must neither be too heavy nor too long, because "the German people will not work if they realize that their children and their grandchildren are going to be down-trodden and overburdened."

Von Simons pointed out that the immediate necessity was the restoration of the devastated regions and an immediate payment on the principal, rather than "forty-two years of promises." He reiterated the German readiness to co-operate in the work of actual reconstruction.

Following their abrupt dismissal, the Germans retired to their embassy while the Allied leaders went into executive session to formulate the reply.

HARDING AND COOLIDGE TAKE OATH OF OFFICE

President Will Stick Close to Constitution—
No Old World Alliances—Industrial Peace Plea of New Chief

Washington, March 4.—President Harding, in his inaugural address said:

"My countrymen, when one surveys the world about him after the great storm, noting the marks of destruction and yet rejoicing in the ruggedness of the things which withstood it, if he is an American he breathes the clarified atmosphere with a strange mingling of regret and new hope. We have seen world passion spend its fury, but we contemplate our republic unshaken and hold our civilization secure. Liberty—liberty within the law—and civilization are inseparable and though both were threatened we find them now secure, and there comes to Americans the profound assurance that our representative government is the highest expression and surest guaranty of both.

The Hand of God

"Standing in his presence, mindful of the solemnity of this occasion, feeling the emotions which no one may know until he senses the great weight of responsibility for himself, I must utter my belief in the divine inspiration of the founding fathers. Surely there must have been God's intent in the making of this new world republic. Ours is an organic law which had but one ambiguity and we saw that effaced in a baptism of sacrifice and blood, with union maintained, the nation supreme and its concord inspiring. We have seen the world rivet its hopeful gaze on the great truths on which the founders wrought. We have seen civil, human and religious liberty verified and glorified. In the beginning, the old world scoffed at our experiment; today our foundations of political and social belief stands unshaken, a precious inheritance to ourselves, an inspiring example of freedom and civilization to all mankind. Let us express renewed and strengthened devotion, in grateful reverence for the immortal beginning, and utter our confidence in the supreme fulfillment.

"The record progress of our republic, materially and spiritually, in itself proves the wisdom of the inherited policy of non-involvement in old world affairs. Confident of our ability to work out our own destiny and jealously guarding our right to do so, we seek no part in directing the destinies of the old world. We do not mean to be entangled. We will accept no responsibility except as our own conscience and judgment in each instance may determine.

"Our eyes never will be blinded to a developing menace, our ears never deaf to the call of civilization. We recognize the new order in the world with the closer contacts which time has wrought. We sense the feeling of the human heart for fellowship, fraternity and co-operation. We crave friendship and harbor no hate. But America, our America, the America built on the foundation laid by the inspired fathers, can be a party to no permanent military alliance. It can enter into no political commitments nor assume any economic obligations to any other than our own authority. "I am sure our own people will not misunderstand, nor will the world misconstrue, we have no thought to impede the paths to closer relationship. We wish to promote understanding. We want to do our part in making offensive warfare so hateful that governments and peoples who resort to it must prove the righteousness of their bar of civilization.

Association for Counsel

"We are ready to associate ourselves with the nations of the world, great and small, for conference, for counsel, to seek the expressed views of world opinion, to recommend a way to approximate disarmament and relieve the crushing burdens of military and naval establishments. We elect to participate in suggesting plans for mediation, conciliation and arbitration, and would gladly join in that expressed conscience of progress which seeks to clarify and write the laws of international relationship and establish a world court for the disposition of such justiciable questions as nations are agreed to submit thereto. In expressing aspirations, in seeking practical plans, in translating humanity's new concept of righteousness, justice and its hatred of war into recommended action we are ready most heartily to unite but every commitment must be made in the exercise of our national sovereignty.

"Since freedom impelled and independence inspired and nationality exalted, a world super-government is contrary to everything we cherish and can have no sanction by our republic. This is not selfishness, it is sanctity. It is not aloofness, it is security. It is not suspicion of others, it is patriotic adherence to the things which made us what we are.

"Today, better than ever before, we know the aspiration of humankind and share them. We have come to a new realization of our place in the world and a new appraisal of our nation by the world. The selfishness of these United States is a thing proven, our devotion to peace for ourselves and for the world is well established, our concern for preserved civilization has had its impassioned and heroic expression. There was no American failure to resist the attempted reversion of civilization, there will be no failure today or tomorrow.

Rest on Popular Will

"The success of our popular government rests wholly upon the correct interpretation of the deliberate, intelligent, dependable popular will of America. In deliberate questioning of a suggested change of national policy where internationality was to supersede nationality, we turned to a referendum of the American people. There was ample discussion and there is a public mandate in manifest understanding.

"America is ready to encourage, eager to initiate, anxious to participate in any seemingly program likely to lessen the probability of war and promote that brotherhood of mankind which must be God's highest conception of human relationship. Because we cherish ideals of justice and peace, because we appraise international comity and helpful relationship no less highly than any people of the world, we aspire to a high place in the moral leadership of civilization and we hold a maintained America, the proven republic, the unshaken temple of representative democracy to be not only an inspiration and example, but the highest agency of strengthening good will and promoting accord on both continents.

"Mankind needs a world-wide benediction of understanding. It is needed among individuals, among peoples, among governments and it will inaugurate an era of good feeling to mark the birth of a new order. In such understanding men will strive confidently for the promotion of their better relationships and nations will promote the comities so essential to peace.

Trade Ties Bind Closely

"We must understand that ties of trade bind nations in closest intimacy and none may receive except as he gives. We have not strengthened ours in accordance with our resources or our genius, notably on our own continent, where a galaxy of republics reflect the glory of new world democracy, but in the new order of finance and trade, we mean to promote enlarged activities and seek expanded confidence.

"Perhaps we can make no more helpful contribution by example than prove a republic's capacity to emerge from the wreckage of war. While the world's embittered travail did not leave us devastated lands nor desolated cities, left no gaping wound, it did involve us in the delirium of expenditure, in expanded currency and credits, in unbalanced industry, unspeakable waste and disturbed relationships. While it uncovered our portion of hateful selfishness at home, it also revealed the heart of America as sound and fearless, and beating in confidence unflinching.

"Amidst it all we have riveted the gaze of all civilization to the selfishness and righteousness of representative democracy, where our freedom never has made offensive warfare, never has sought territorial aggrandizement through force, never has turned to the arbitrament of arms until reason has been exhausted. When the government shall have established a freedom like our own and shall have sanctioned the pursuit of peace as we have practiced it, I believe the last sorrow and the final sacrifice of international warfare will have been written.

Our Supreme Task

"Our supreme task is the resumption of our onward normal way. Reconstruction, readjustment, restoration—all these must follow. I would like to have them. If it will lighten the spirit and add to the resolution with which we take up the task, let me repeat for our nation, we shall give no people just cause to make war upon us. We hold no national prejudice, we entertain no spirit of revenge, we do not hate, we do not covet, we dream of no conquest, nor boast of armed prowess.

"If, despite this attitude, war is again forced upon us, I earnestly hope a way may be found which will unify our individual and collective strength and consecrate all America, materially and spiritually, body and soul to national defense. I can vision the ideal republic, where every man and woman is called under the flag for assignment to duty, for whatever service, military or civic, the individual is best fitted, where we may call to universal service every plant, agency or facility, all in the sublime sacrifice for country and not one penny of war profit shall endure to the benefit of private individual, corporation or combination, but all above the normal shall flow into the defense chest of the nation. There is something inherent,ly wrong, something out of accord with the ideals of representative democracy, when one portion of our citizenship turns its activity to private gain and defensive war, while another is fighting, sacrificing or dying for national preservation.

Unity of Spirit and Purpose

"Out of such universal service will come a new unity of spirit and purpose, a new new confidence and consecration which would make our defense impregnable, our triumph assured. Then we should have little or no disorganization of economic, industrial, commercial systems at home, no staggering war debts, no swollen fortunes to flout the sacrifices of our soldiers, no excuse for sedition, no pitiable slackness, no outrages of treason. Envy and jealousy would have no soil for their menacing development and revolution would be without the passion which engenders it.

"A regret for the mistakes of yesterday must not, however, blind us to the tasks of today. War never left such an aftermath. There has been staggering loss of life, and measureless wastage of materials. Nations are still groping for return to stable ways. Discouraging indebtedness confronts us like all the war torn nations, and these obligations must be provided for. No civilization can survive repudiation.

"We can reduce the abnormal expenditures and we will. We can strike at war taxation and we must. We must face the grim necessity with full knowledge that the task is to be solved and we must proceed with a full realization that no statute enacted by man can repeal the inexorable laws of nature. Our most dangerous tendency is to expect too much of government and at the same time do for it too little.

"We contemplate the immediate task of putting our public household in order. We need a rigid and yet sane economy, combined with fiscal justice and it must be attended by individual prudence and thrift which are so essential to this trying hour and reassuring for the future.

Reflections of War's Reactions

"The business world reflects the disturbance of war's reaction. Herein flows the life blood of material existence. The economic mechanism is intricate and its parts interdependent and has suffered the shocks and jars incident to abnormal demands, credit inflation and price upheavals. The normal balances have been impaired, the channels of distribution have been clogged, the relations of labor and management have been strained. We must seek the readjustment with care and courage. Our people must give and take. Prices must reflect the receding fever of war activities. Perhaps we never shall know the old level if wage again, because war invariably readjusts compensations and the necessities of life will show their inseparable relationship, but we must strive for normalcy to reach stability. All the penalties will not be light or evenly distributed.

"There is no way of making them so. There is no instant step from disorder to order. We must face a condition of grim reality, charge off our losses and start afresh. It is the oldest lesson of civilization. I would like government to do all it can to mitigate them. In understanding, in mutuality of interest, in concern for the common good our tasks will be solved. "No altered system will work a miracle. And wild experiment will only add to the confusion. Our best assurance lies in efficient administration of our proven system.

"The forward course of the business cycle is unmistakable. Peoples are turning from destruction to production. Industry has sensed the changed order and our own people are turning to resume their normal onward way. The call is for productive America to go on. I know that congress and the administration will favor every wise government policy to aid the resumption and encourage continued progress.

"I speak for administrative efficiency, for lightened tax burdens, for sound commercial practices, for adequate credit facilities, for sympathetic concern for all agricultural problems, for the omission of unnecessary interferences of government with business, for an end to government's experiment in business and for more efficient business in government administration. With all of this must attend a mindfulness of the human side of all activities so that social, industrial and economic justice will be squared with the purposes of a righteous people.

"With the nation-wide induction of womanhood into our political life we count upon her intuitions, her refinement, her intelligence and her influence to exalt the social order. We count upon her exercise of the full privileges and the performance of the duties of citizenship to speed the attainment of the highest state.

Prayer for Industrial Peace

"I wish for an America no less alertness in guarding against dangers from within than it is watchful against enemies from without. Our fundamental law, recognizes no class, no group, no section. There must be none in legislation or administration. The supreme inspiration is the commonwealth. Humanity hungers for international peace and we crave it with all mankind. My most reverent prayer for America is for industrial peace, with its rewards, widely and generally distributed amid the inspirations of equal opportunity.

"No one may justly deny the equality of opportunity which made us what we are. We have mistaken unpreparedness to embrace it to be a challenge of the reality, and due concern for making all citizens fit for participation will give added strength of citizenship and magnify our achievements.

"If revolution insists upon overturning established order, let other peoples make the tragic experiment.

WOODROW WILSON

Retiring President of the United States, Woodrow Wilson, greatest statesman in the history of the world. "He wrote the Gospel of Peace," says the Saturday Evening Post, in commenting on his retirement from office. Wilson ended the war and wrote the declaration of principles on which mankind will some day unite in common fraternity. While he failed largely, he succeeded greatly. Broken in health the great Democrat retires from office, a casual of the war—a virtual sacrifice upon the altar of his country. The world accepted his leadership when it was the only beacon left to pilot, but when the danger was over the backsliding began. Men struck with spears and cast lots for his glory but time and history will give a just verdict. "He wrote the Gospel of Peace."

There is no place for it in America. When world war threatened civilization we pledged our resources and our lives to its preservation, and when revolution threatens we unfurl the flag of law and order and renew our consecration. Ours is a constitutional freedom, where the popular will is the law supreme and minorities are sacredly protected. Our revisions, reformations and evolutions reflect a deliberate judgment and an orderly progress, and we mean to cure our ills but never destroy or permit destruction by force.

"I had rather submit our industrial controversies to the conference table in advance than to a settlement table after conflict and suffering. The earth is thirsting for the cup of good will. Understanding is its fountain source. I would like to acclaim an era of good feeling amid dependable prosperity and all of the blessings which attend.

Protection of Industries

"It has been proved again and again that we can not, while throwing our markets open to the world, maintain American standards of living and opportunity and hold our industrial eminence in such unequal competition. There is a luring fallacy in the banished barriers of trade but preserved American standards require our higher production costs to be reflected in the tariffs on imports. Today as never before when peoples are seeking trade restoration and expansion we must adjust our tariffs to the new order. We seek participation in the world's exchanges, because therein lies our way to widened influence and the triumphs of peace. We know full well we can not sell where we do not buy and we cannot sell successfully where we do not carry.

"Opportunity is calling, not alone for the restoration, but for a new era trade. We shall answer it best by meeting the demand of surpassing home market, by promoting self-reliance in production and by bidding enterprise, genius and efficiency to carry our cargoes in American boats to the marts of the world.

tunity shall prevent the gaining of that education so essential to best citizenship.

"There is no short cut to the making of these ideals into great realities. The world has witnessed again and again the futility and the mischief of ill-considered remedies for social and economic disorders. But we are mindful today as never before of the friction of modern industrialism and we must learn its cause and reduce its evil consequences by sober and tested methods. Where genius has made for great possibilities, justice and happiness must be reflected in a greater common welfare.

Service, the Supreme Commitment

"Service is the supreme commitment of life. I would rejoice to acclaim the era of the golden rule and crown it with the autocracy of service. I pledge an administration wherein all the agencies of government are called to serve and ever promote an understanding of government purely as an expression of the popular will.

"One can not stand in this presence and be unmindful of the tremendous responsibility. The world upheaval had added heavily to our task. But with the realization comes the surge of high resolve and there is assurance in belief in the God-given destiny of our republic. If I felt that there is to be sole responsibility in the executive for the America of tomorrow I should shrink from the burden. But here are a hundred millions, with common concern and shared responsibility, answerable to God and country. The republic summons them to their duty and I invite co-operation.

"I accept my part with single-mindedness of purpose and humility of spirit and implore the favor and guidance of God in his heaven. With these I am unafraid and confidently face the future.

"I have taken the solemn oath of office on that passage of Holy Writ, wherein it is asked 'What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly and to love mercy and walk humbly with thy God.' This I plight to God and country."

GIRLS' CLUB

Last Thursday afternoon the Girls' Club met in regular session and a good program was enjoyed. The subject was Spring. Several members were requested to write several verses on Spring and bring them to the club and tell them. Several good ones were read and following are some of the best:

The Coming of Spring

By Oma Weems

Why do we wish for the coming of Spring,
For the singing of birds, the budding of trees
The blooming of flowers, tingling of bells?
Say! Can any one tell?

We wait with a glad joy in our heart
For the long bitter winter to depart

And welcome Spring with a bright smile
As one day "They" welcomed the little Christ child.

Some day we may recall the Spring of life
With all its pleasures, which we thought was strife
So let us now do all we may
That we won't regret what we do or say.

"Spring."

By Ollie Clinton

Hark! to the rattling rustle of the leaves,
List, to the larks merrily sing,
Hear the drowsy buzz of the bees,
These,—mark the entrance of Spring.

Spring is come! Spring is come!
Songs fill the air.
Happiness everywhere,
Spring is come! Spring is come!

The plowmen, now, work 'till late,
The village doctor lives in ease,
The small boys reap their fate,
For eating green fruit from the trees.

Spring is come—Spring is come!
Barefeet go hurrying by,
The birds take up the cry
Spring is come! Spring is come!

"Spring-Time"

By Una Fay Terry

There are beautiful days in winter
Which bring some beautiful things
But the beautiful days of the year
Are the sunshiney days of Spring.

With beautiful flowers and song-birds
And seeds peeping through to light
For the earth has been uncovered.
And the snow is all out of sight.

There are many things to be thankful for
There are many things to love
But the beautiful thing of all the Spring
Is the sunshine from heaven above.

Spring

By Willene Barber

Of all the seasons of the year,
I love the spring the best,
The flowers, sunshine, and little birds
As, the Wren and Robin Redbreast.

Where is the snow and the ice
That fell on a winter's day,
That covered all the little seed;
And ran the birds away?

And says unto the birds, "Come out,"
The sun is sending down his rays,
For I have scared the snow away
And little children are running about."

I love the spring because the flowers
Send out their fragrance o'er the land,
And the sunshine brings us sweet thoughts
Of a higher power and ruling Hand.

Spring

By Mildred Faver

Why do you feel so happy?
Why do you feel so gay?
I know it isn't because

You can't feel any other way.

Oh yes, now I remember
This is just the time of the year
When we all feel so free and happy
'Tis time for dear spring to be here.

The trees are no more leafless,
Because we can begin to see
That a bit of green is showing
On every shrub and tree.

This is the prettiest season.
This season that we call spring.
You ought to just stop and consider
The beautiful things that this season brings.

Last Tuesday afternoon Mrs. C. H. Yoe formally presented the Yoe High School building to the free school system of Cameron. The ceremonies were in charge of Miss Ada Henderson.

First on the program was the invocation of Rev. H. R. McFadyen. This was followed by a piano solo by Mr. Smith. This was very much enjoyed. Then Miss Henderson made a short introductory talk which ended in the presentation of Mrs. Yoe, the donor of the building. As Mrs. Yoe rose every person in the house rose to pay honor to the woman whose generosity made it possible that Cameron now has this magnificent school building. Then Mrs. Yoe talked a while and in closing said that the two east rooms on the third floor would be dedicated to the memory of of Lawless Green. The applause was so great that she rose again and threw kisses at the audience. Dr. A. S. Epperson made the response after which Mrs. Yoe gave him the deed to the building. This was followed by much applause. On the behalf of the city of Cameron U. S. Hearrell made another response which was followed by much applause. A violin solo by Mr. Paul Medsker accompanied by Miss Ruth Sprinkel was then very much enjoyed.

Hon. T. S. Henderson, Cameron attorney and statesman, gave a glorious tribute to Mrs. Yoe. Mr. Henderson also took advantage of the occasion to give brief history of Mr. C. H. Yoe. After Mr. Henderson was seated the large assembly hall fairly shook with applause. Then Rev. McFadyen pronounced the benediction. After the exercises the visitors went all over the building for an inspection. To some the cooking room was of interest while on the other hand the chemistry laboratory was of interest. However all agreed that everything was first class. Each room was decorated with flowers of all kinds and with very pretty arrangement. The principal has a separate office and also has the superintendent. There is a library which is to be in charge of Miss Work. There will also be rooms for state text books.

As to the management of the school it will be the best that is to be had. There will be seven periods in a day and a period will last forty-five minutes with an interval of five minutes. Each student has a separate locker where he can put all of his belongings, cap, coat and books. Each locker has an automatic latch and this latch may be locked by an ordinary pad lock. The hardware stores were fairly swamped with students trying to buy locks for their lockers. The domestic economy department will have two rooms, one for cooking and the other for sewing. Both rooms are up to date in every way. The cooking room will have small stoves burning gas which the separate plant will generate. Also the chemistry and physics laboratory will have gas. The commercial department will be opened next year. This department will be dedicated to Lawless Green and he has left funds for the purpose of helping those who do not have the money to go. This department will have stenography, bookkeeping and all other business courses.

In honor of Mrs. Yoe the school has a club name The Carrie Yoe Club. The school building is the C. H. Yoe building and this week the Cam-Hi News has changed its name to that of Yoe-Hi News. The pupils of Yoe-Hi do not know how to fully express their deep appreciation of this gift but they feel that Mrs. Yoe knows their feelings.

WHO'S WHO IN YOE-HI

Miss Velda Walker

Miss Velda Walker is a student that Yoe-Hi will regret to see leave this year. She is one of the most popular girls in school. Also she makes good grades in school work. She is on the "A" list and all of her grades average "A." She is also a prominent member of the Girls' Club and not only that, she is an officer. She is also editor of the annual and the quality of the book will be the fruits of her untiring efforts at making the best of things. She is also a very bright Latin student. When Velda leaves Yoe-Hi will miss her.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

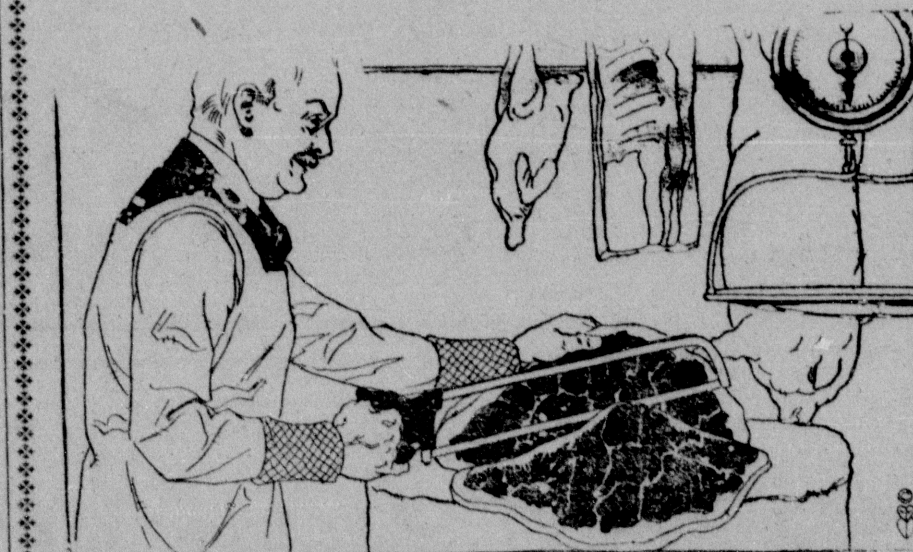

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritate, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

BUSINESS LECTURE TO BE PRESENTED BY CAMERON CLUB

"GETTING THE MOST OUT OF RETAILING" SUBJECT OF BUSINESS EXPERT

Arrangements have been made by the Commercial Club of Cameron to bring to this city on Thursday, March 17 at 8 o'clock in District Court Room the most famous American Business Lecture on the platform: "Getting the Most Out of Retailing." Under this head, Mr. W. H. Farley, well known business expert and organizer, will discuss the various questions that are of special interest to merchants and business men everywhere. He will show how co-operation and organization will make for a better community or city. He will show practical improvements in service and store organization that will please the general public and draw trade. He will show how proper advertising will change losses to profits. How systematic continuous advertising pays the largest dividends of all. How system enables a merchant to know at all times about the conditions of his business instead of guessing, is now more than ever before absolutely essential to success.

With the aid of six thousand feet of moving picture film, Mr. Farley will give a most interesting discussion.

It isn't theory. It isn't over the heads of people. It is solid horse sense applied to merchandising. Practical, every day, concrete experiences given in this way with lecture and pictures make a double impression—through the eye and the ear—that is sure to be of lasting benefit to every business man or sales person who attends this lecture.

Every merchant or wife of a merchant, every salesman or clerk, every business man, and all those interested in seeing Cameron become a better business center should not fail to hear Mr. Farley.

A glance at this outline of the lecture is sufficient to show its great value:

Retail Failures and their Causes.
Store Organization.
Newspaper Advertising.
Window Displays.
The Business of Clerks.
Salesmanship.
System.

There will be no charge for admission.

THE FARM BUREAU

Dallas, Texas, March 7.—Forty-five counties with a total membership of approximately 45,000 has been organized by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation by the last of February, according to J. F. Bagwell, Director of the Membership Department. On Monday, February 28, there were nine teams of organizers, totaling about 75 workers, engaged in nine counties of the State, most of which will be completed this week.

A large gathering of representative farmers at Lockhart, Caldwell County, was addressed Saturday afternoon by Mr. Bagwell on the Farm Bureau plan and particularly its marketing organization. Mr. Bagwell said that interest is so strong in Caldwell County that an organization team will begin work as early as possible.

With forty-five counties lined up, there were more than fifty others that have asked for workers and will be organized as soon as possible, it was announced at the close of the month of February. At this time, Mr. Bagwell reported that the membership gain was averaging more than 1,800 a week.

HOUSEWORK IS BURDEN

Woman's lot is a weary one at best. But with backache and other distressing kidney ills life indeed becomes a burden. Doan's Kidney Pills have made life brighter for many Cameron women. Read what Mrs. Martha Moore, E. 2nd Street, Cameron, says: "For a great many years Doan's Kidney Pills have been my standard medicine for kidney complaint. I have taken Doan's when my back and sides have been so lame and sore that I couldn't do my housework. When my kidneys were irregular, I would get dizzy spells when stooping that just blinded me. That condition made me nervous. I felt out of sorts. When I had attacks of that kind, I took Doan's Kidney Pills and about one box of them strengthened my kidneys and restored by to good health. I very gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone."

BUCKHOLTS ITEMS

Edited by Miss Audrey Criswell

Buckholts, Tex., March 8.—Friday night the ladies of the Methodist church gave a box supper, the proceeds to be used in finishing up the interior of the church. The entire amount taken in was ninety dollars, with something over ten dollars expenses. The choir and orchestra of the Methodist church of Cameron was here and gave a splendid and highly appreciative program.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Hannes will move in a few days to Dime Box, where Mr. Hannes has purchased a gin. Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hughes will move into the house that Hannes vacates.

Miss Bessie Logan of Cameron, was here during the week end to see Miss Maine Scott.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. S. D. Rogers is still ill with typhoid fever. A nurse, Mrs. Annie Cotton, is now attending Mrs. Rogers.

Miss Cora Weathersbee, principal at Baskin school, spent the week-end here with her fellow-teacher, Miss Elsie Wendt.

Mr. M. M. Raney, formerly of this place but now of Denison, was here last week to see friends and relatives.

The Get-Together Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. John Oliver. About fifteen members were present to enjoy the afternoon. A conclusion of the afternoon's pleasure the hostess served her guests delicious hot chocolate and cake.

Plans are being made to take the children of the Baptist Sunday school out to the Helmeamp meadow, about one mile south of town, and let them enjoy hunting Easter eggs. This is a beautiful meadow and will make an ideal place for an Easter frolic.

During fair weather the road workmen make great progress on the good roads. They have been doing some work on main street, grading it and putting in cement culverts. The gravel haulers were delayed the larger part of last week on account of the rain, and the road from the gravel pit to the public road was in such a bad condition it was impossible for the trucks to travel it.

Messrs. Eugene Dice and Kelly Brooks spent the week end with home folks at Copperas Cove.

Terrific

Read how Mrs. Albert Gregory, of R. F. D. No. 1, Bluford, Ill., got rid of her ills. "During... I was awfully weak... My pains were terrific, I thought I would die. The bearing-down pains were actually so severe I could not stand the pressure of my hands on the lower part of my stomach... I simply felt as if life was for but a short time. My husband was worried... One evening, while reading the Birthday Almanac, he came across a case similar to mine, and went straight for some Cardui for me to try.

"I took it faithfully and the results were immediate," adds Mrs. Gregory. "I continued to get better, all my ills left me, and I went through... with no further trouble. My baby was fat and strong, and myself—thank God—am once more hale and hearty, can walk miles, do my work, though 44 years old, feel like a new person. All I owe to Cardui." For many years Cardui has been found helpful in building up the system when run down by disorders peculiar to women.

Wilson's Last Hour as President Is Filled With Heroic Effort

Wilson's last hour as President of the United States was a curious comingling of sadness and attempted cheerfulness.

For a moment the President appeared as the decrepit figure that he had so often been pictured since his physical collapse two years ago, then again as he sat at his desk and signed bills with a firm hand, a steady pen, his eyes burned with the fire of the soldier who never surrenders.

To the last, Woodrow Wilson seemed to be in a fighting mood though everybody who stood around him felt that his feeble figure belied his attempts in his belligerent spirit of old.

Slowly Wilson wended his way along the corridor for fifty feet from the elevator just to the right of the Senate chamber. As he proceeded slowly he leaned on his cane and was unaided. His left shoulder was stooped and his left hand hung limply at his side. As former Mayor "Honey" Fitzgerald of Boston extended his hand to greet the President, Wilson quickly hung the hook of his cane in the upper pocket of his overcoat and standing for a moment, smiled his greetings. Senator Overman of North Carolina, Democrat, walked along beside Wilson and asked him if he would not go out to the front of the capitol to witness the inauguration of Harding, but in a hollow voice Wilson replied that he feared he did not have strength enough to do it.

Greeted by Harding
Surrounded by members of his Cabinet, Democratic Senators and military and naval aides, Wilson entered the President's room there to be greeted by Harding. An aid helped take Wilson's overcoat from his shoulders and the man who had driven through the street of Rome, Paris and London, hailed as the great peacemaker of his generation, sank limply into his chair. For a moment only, however, did he seem nervous and ill at ease. Gradually he recovered his composure. Warren Harding stood over him, bending low and almost paternally over the man whose arduous labors in the Presidential office had caused his physical, if not political, overthrow. It was evident that a kindly feeling existed between the two men, intensified indeed by the human quality which has made Warren Harding beloved by his colleagues.

Harding made it clear that if Wilson did not feel strong enough to go outdoors, he would not regard it as a discourtesy and he urged Wilson not to do anything that would tax his strength.

"I guess I had better not try it," remarked Wilson and Harding passed out to the Republican cloak room while the outgoing President signed bills. The first measure placed before him was a bill authorizing expenditures for hospital facilities to take care of disabled soldiers. Every now and then the signing of bills would be interrupted by a handshake for some member of Congress who had stepped in the room to pay respects.

General Pershing Calls.
When General Pershing stepped forward, Woodrow Wilson smiled and extending his hand, said:
"Excuse me, General, for not rising."

Courteous to the last Wilson had many kind words of greeting for his former associates. Bainbridge Colby chatted with him for a while and standing at hand as of old was Postmaster General Burleson. It was a truly Democratic setting. Joseph Daniels was there and Newton Baker and David F. Houston and Edward Meredith—all the Cabinet, in fact, and Senators Underwood, Robinson, Harrison, Heflin, Swanson and others who have been so close to Wilson. Each was called by name and, really, as Wilson sat at his desk, those who have known the man for years felt that he looked just as healthy and acted just as naturally as in the earlier days of his administration when he came to the President's room.

"Well, I think I had better scoot now," remarked Wilson with a laugh, but just at that moment a committee from both Houses of Congress appeared in the room. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and former Speaker Joseph Cannon, veteran Republicans, were in the front row of the committee directly facing Wilson. Quickly there came over the Wilson countenance that frigid expression which has on more than one occasion been employed by him to express his displeasure. It was evident that Wilson was trying hard to fight back something inside of him that rebelled at the necessity of receiving that final communication from Lodge.

Lodge is Spokesman.
"This committee begs to inform you," said Senator Lodge, "that the two houses have completed their work and are prepared to receive any further instructions from you."
Woodrow Wilson's face flushed.

His eyes were fixed upon the eyes of Senator Lodge. These two men stood face to face in the final scene of what has been perhaps the greatest of battles in American history over the ratification of a treaty. Clearly and seemingly with the peremptory spirit of the past, Wilson said:

"I have no further communication—I would be glad if you would inform both houses and thank them for their courtesy—good morning, sir."

It was that final "good morning, sir," which seemed to cut the air with its finality and coldness. Nothing more fittingly represented the inward emotions of the outgoing President as he performed his last formal act as President of the United States.

He turned quickly in his swivel chair, willing hands helped him with his coat, Warren Harding again came forward to wish Wilson good health.

Mrs. Wilson with characteristic graciousness told Harding she wished him "all the luck in the world" and gradually the picture faded.

"I'm afraid, Mr. President, I shall have to beg off," was Wilson's final remark to Harding, who told him he thoroughly understood. Then it was that Wilson with halting step and downcast head, his left shoulder stooped but his eyes turned upward, endeavoring to smile, trying to the end to exhibit a fighting spirit and an attitude of no surrender passed out of official life into the sunshine of the Capitol grounds there to be motored to the privacy of his new home and the consoling atmosphere of colleagues and friends, faithful to the last to the idealism that once thrilled a war-torn world.

TO DARKEN HAIR

APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural

Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store, all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

GLASS OF SALTS

"CLEANS KIDNEYS"

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Drink Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritates the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep his kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

Spring Time Is Saving Time

"In the spring of Life prepare for the winter of old age."

Such is the good counsel that each father and mother, who have weathered Life's storms and sunshine alike, should give to their offspring. Admonish your son and daughter to be Thrifty, to Economize without self-denial, and to learn the real value of every dollar saved as it pertains to the future.

There is likewise a lesson for the present day young woman and young man to learn. There may come a time when they will wish that they had saved some of the money that they now light-heartedly lavish on needless things.

Now is the time to save so that when the winter of old age rolls around there will be no necessity of added burdens through the tearing worries of financial troubles.

NEWS FROM SHARP COMMUNITY

Edited by Mrs. W. H. Lyon

March 6.—This community was genuinely grieved upon hearing the announcement of the death of Mrs. Nancy Ann Voyles, which occurred at the home of her sister, Mrs. L. S. Dilworth last Tuesday at 11 p. m., March 1, after a long and painful illness.

Decedent was one of the old settlers of this place, a gentle Christian lady whom every one loved. She was a member of the Presbyterian church here, and up to the time of her illness took an active part in religious work.

She was the mother of 12 children, ten of whom survive her, all but one, being with her during her illness. The absent one was Mrs. Jim Byrd, who was at the time in Temple, having undergone a recent operation. The others are Marshall, Ad and Anderson Voyles; Mesdames Collier, Gamble, Campbell, Chas. Leonard, Will Leonard of this place and Mrs. McDonald of Granger.

Mrs. Voyles was about seventy years of age, having come to this place from Mississippi with her husband, J. L. Voyles.

Funeral services were held at the church, Revs. Logan and Copeland of Rockdale conducting it. Interment at the White church cemetery. The community extends its sympathy to the bereaved family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reichert and children motored to Granger to visit the family of her brother, Seth Brinkley.

A match game of base ball was played on the Sharp diamond last Friday afternoon between the Sharp and Duncan Juniors. The score was 20 to 3 in favor of Sharp. The Duncan boys put up a mighty brave fight, though in a way the odds were against them, as it was necessary to play two senior boys on our team. However, most of our boys were quite small, and did some fine playing. We hope to meet this school again soon, and hope to be able to have sizes matched more evenly.

Miss Lizzie Reichert is at home again after a visit with friends at Dale.

There will be a singing convention at this place on the 3rd Sunday in March, to go on all day. Every one cordially invited to come.

Miss Fowler of Friendship was a guest in the Lyle home—guest of her brother, Ed Fowler.

Mrs. Fred Davis is now in Galveston to sojourn for the benefit of her health.

Mrs. F. N. Craven is now at home

RAINBOW PARTY

The home of Mrs. John Watson was again the scene of brightness and joy last Thursday when she entertained the "42" Club and a few other friends.

The joy and sweetness of Spring was evidenced in the flowers used. There were flowers of every color of the rainbow, the chief of which were potted hyacinths.

In the conservatory was a table over which was a rainbow made of tissue streamers and on the table was a rainbow of potted hyacinths.

Seven tables were arranged, covered with beautiful hand embroidered covers with Mrs. Watson's initials and with numbers embroidered on them.

Robert Young's hand work was brought to bear at this party and the score cards were landscapes just after a shower with a rainbow and the very pot and gold at the end of the bow every one so desires.

On the center of each table was a potted hyacinth and the score cards used as place cards made the table beautiful.

Mrs. Watson had devised a new plan for partners and each lady followed the lady whose name was on the back of her card. This occasioned a great deal of merriment.

While the guests were arriving Mrs. J. L. Clinton sang in her usual sweet voice, "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows."

Ten merry games were played, and while the tables were being served Miss Minnie Wolf charmed the crowd with one of her delightful readings.

Assisted by Mrs. W. A. Gillon and Miss Aetna Smith, Mrs. Watson served a delicious two-course luncheon consisting of salmon croquets, rainbow sandwiches of home-made white and brown bread with pimiento, cheese peanut and ham fillings, Marshmallow salad, and then came the promised "pot of gold," tiny gilded pots with chocolate ice cream with raisins planted in it and macaroons.

Potted hyacinths of every color of the rainbow were table favors and in the cut these fell to Mesdames T. N. Herring, Albert Triggs, O. L. Kidd, J. L. Clinton, Tom Henderson, Jr., Jim Watson and Miss Mary Lake Henderson.

For high score a larger pot with three of the blooming plants were given Mrs. Judd Davis. Two special pots were presented to the "kitchen force"—not cooking pots, however, but pots with beautiful hyacinths in force. A white one to Miss Aetna Smith, and a red one to Mrs. W. A. Gillon.

After thanking Mrs. Watson for the evening's pleasure as the ladies marched out bearing their flowers it looked like the rainbow itself.

Guests other than club members were: Mesdames Stone of Mt. Clement, Paul Medsker, J. W. Coleman, O. L. Kidd, Judd Davis, Giles Avriett, U. S. Hearrell, J. L. Clinton, J. M. Ralston, George Thomas, Frank Lesovsky, Tom Henderson, Jr., R. L. Batte, Sr. T. N. Herring and Miss Minnie Wolf.

FRED JACKSON ENTERTAINS

Last Friday night Fred Jackson complimented ten couples of his friends with a picture show party. They assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Jackson and with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Jackson, Misses Loventhal and Anna Lou Baskin as chaperones, they attended the New Heffey Theater to see Douglas Fairbanks in "The Mark of Zorro."

After enjoying the picture they repaired to the Jackson home and were most delightfully served to chocolate and vanilla ice cream, angel food cake and chocolate candy.

Those enjoying Fred's hospitality were: Misses Mary Young, Pauline Green, Nona Hubert, Mildred Moore, Rosalee Baskin, Sallie Coleman, Nadine Lyles, Ruby Caton, Messrs Arthur Baskin, Billie Clark, Gordon Baskin, Glenn Flinn, Phillip Reed and Wiltz McCown.

AT THE CHURCH SOCIETIES

The Baptist ladies met at the church in their usual business session on first Monday. There were twenty-seven in attendance.

The Presbyterian ladies also met in business session and made plans for the year beginning April 1st.

The Methodist ladies had their first Monday Devotional exercises and in the absence of the president and the vice-president who are attending the Missionary Conference, Mrs. Boykin took charge of the meeting. They met with Mrs. Ed Tucker with a good attendance.

KILLKARE-SIGMA PHI

Miss Winnie Henderson very charmingly entertained this bevy of maids and matrons last Friday afternoon.

Spring flowers were everywhere and a jolly crowd enjoyed needle work for a while. Then Miss Winnie passed pictures of flowers and had an auction sale. Each lady described something she possessed that she would like to get rid of and the rest bid for it. Imagine one lady's consternation when she found herself bidding highest for "Johnson grass."

After the fun, assisted by Misses Ada, Mary Lake and Agnes Henderson, Miss Winnie served a delicious combination salad and ice course consisting of chicken salad, sandwiches, fresh tomatoes, beet pickle, olives, crackers and ice cream.

Those participating in the evening's pleasure other than club members were Mesdames Jeff Kemp, W. H. Henley, Stone of Mt. Clement, Tom Henderson, Jr., J. M. Ralston, Leo Wilkerson, B. J. Baskin, Charlie McDermott, Charlie Pollard, Trent Newton, Tom Denson, John Martin, Frank Lesovsky, John Dobbins, Walter and George Thomas, Culpepper, T. N. Herring and Misses Clara Curtis, Rose Rischar, Poseine Ledbetter.

LAUNCH VAST EFFORT FOR EUROPE'S YOUNG

Eight American Relief Agencies Combine to Save 3,500,000 Children Death Menaces.

Eight great relief organizations, working among and for every race and creed, have united under the name of the European Relief Council to coordinate child relief in Europe this winter. The Council will seek to provide funds for 3,500,000 starving and diseased children in Eastern and Central Europe and to administer this relief economically.

It consists of Herbert Hoover, chairman, and Franklin K. Lane, treasurer; Edgar Rickard, representing the American Relief Administration; Dr. Livingston Farrand, representing the American Red Cross; Felix Warburg, representing the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee; Wilbur K. Thomas, representing the American Friends' Service Committee (Quakers); James A. Flaherty, representing the Knights of Columbus; Dr. C. V. Hubbard, representing the Young Men's Christian Association; Miss Sarah S. Lyon, representing the Young Women's Christian Association; Dr. Arthur Brown, representing the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

It is the purpose of the Council to raise $33,000,000, in an appeal centering at the Christmas holidays, to the end that the desperate situation regarding child life may be met. In every town and community of the nation, it is planned, local committees, representing all the co-operating agencies will be formed to secure the vitally necessary funds. Of the amount sought, $23,000,000 will be used for basic food and $10,000,000 for medical service.

For every one of these American dollars the local governments and communities aided will furnish two dollars, in the form of transportation, labor, guards, clerical help, cash contributions and such food supplies as are locally obtainable. No children receive the free food except after medical tests showing them to be seriously undernourished. The remaining $10,000,000 of the fund is just as urgently needed for medical service to the children.

The European Relief Council will do much more than effect economies in the raising of the child saving fund. It will, with the inspecting forces of eight great agencies, keep a constant eye on the administration of America's merciful gift, in order that there shall be no wastage and no tendency toward pauperization.

"This is the largest co-operative benevolent organization ever attempted in the United States," Mr. Hoover says. "The organizations represented have come to the unanimous, though independently formed conclusion, that nothing but prompt and united action by the whole American people can avert incredible tragedy for the helpless children involved. The organizations forming the Council will organize their representatives in every town and community of the nation for the raising of the necessary funds."

Habitual Constipation Cured in 14 to 21 Days

"LAX-FOS WITH PEPSIN" is a specially-prepared Syrup Tonic-Laxative for Habitual Constipation. It relieves promptly but should be taken regularly for 14 to 21 days to induce regular action. It Stimulates and Regulates. Very Pleasant to Take. 60c per bottle.

EVANGELIST CLOSES MEETING SUNDAY

WALKERS CREEK COMMUNITY REVIVED BY EVANGELIST TUNNELL

REV. E. V. TUNNELL

T. V. Tunnell, evangelist for the Marlin District of the Methodist church, has just closed a very successful revival meeting in the Walkers Creek community. The meeting closed Sunday night following the organization of a Sunday School with an enrollment of about 40.

The meeting was a union meeting, participated in by all the religious faiths in the community. The organization of the Sunday School grew out of the revival and will be a great religious asset to the community. It is planned to organize a church there at some future date.

Evangelist T. V. Tunnell is a forceful preacher, expounding the old time religion in a way that is forceful and revives the people. He may soon begin another meeting in Milam county.

Rev. Tunnell resides in Travis, Texas, and has only recently accepted the work as District Missionary Evangelist for the Marlin District.

Pleads for Europe's Helpless Children

"They are no more my children than yours," is Herbert Hoover's homely yet eloquent plea for 3,500,000 European children who face incredible tragedy this winter unless America comes to their rescue. The funds by which American aid has been feeding millions have run out, and that the work may not stop and thus precipitate what would amount to a massacre of the innocents' seven other great American relief organizations have united with Mr. Hoover's organization under the name of the European Relief Council in a joint appeal for funds. The collaborating agencies are the American Red Cross, the American Friends' Service Committee (Quakers), the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

Lovely New Millinery

Embracing All Sprightly Spring Styles

Saucy Directoire poke bonnets, gay with fruit and flowers vie in courting milady's favor with draped turbans, helmet-shaped turbans, up-turned shapes, tricornered and large drooping hats. It is a season of gay color, of many flowers either in wreaths or flat appliques, of lovely ribbons and gorgeous fabric straw and cellophane braids. Selecting Hats for one's varied Spring needs is fascinating.

Flower-Trimmed Hats for Easter

Nothing quite completes the Easter costume as does the flower-trimmed Hat. This year the flowers are in many cases hand-made of crepe de Chine or Georgette, others are embroidered or appliqued, but the same vivid multi-colored effect is gained. Like promises of the vernal days are these bright models. They add a cheery note to the suit and are particularly charming with the silk frock.

LADIES! DARKEN

YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull faded or streaked appearance, this mixture was applied, with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out of date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Coupe

Here is one of the most useful of all closed cars. Specifically so when not more than two or three are to be accommodated with reliable car service. The Ford Coupe is a mighty cosy car, in that it is absolutely water-tight, at the same time with its sliding plate glass windows you can have an open car, to all intents and purposes, in a couple of minutes. So it doesn't make any difference what the weather may be, rain or shine, summer or winter, in the Ford Coupe you have an enclosed car of comfort and service. What more do you want?

It has proven particularly a valuable car for traveling salesmen, physicians, engineers, architects, and others who have much out-of-door work all the year around. We have never been able to fully meet all demands for the Ford Coupe, but with the increased producing capacities of the factory we are now able to make reasonably prompt deliveries. Yet we urge you to leave your order with as little delay as possible—our allotment is limited.

has seen fit to make an additional appropriation for the work this year, then I desire to appeal to every citizen to make it a success, in order that the quarantine may be lifted and relieve a further drain on our county funds.

To clearly show the extent of the continued drain on the general fund caused by tick eradication and what it means to the individual taxpayer it might not be miss to say that if it had not been necessary for the court to use the county funds on this project, no ad valorem tax rate would have to be levied this year, except for road and bridge purposes.

GILES L. AVRIETT.

Cameron, Tex., Feb. 19th, 1921.
Hon. C. M. Cureton,
Austin, Texas.

Dear Sir:

During the years 1919 and 1920 there was spent by the commissioners' court of this county approximately $30,000.00 out of the general fund of the county for tick eradication. The county is still under the quarantine and on last Friday the commissioners' court of this county made an appropriation from ten to twelve thousand dollars to carry on the work for the year 1921 to be paid out of the general fund of the county. I am opposed to the appropriation made by the commissioners' court on last Friday on the ground that the court is without authority to continue paying for this work indefinitely, in other words to continue this work year after year means a heavy drain on the general fund of our county and will more than likely result in an increased tax rate during the year 1921.

Article 7314 D, Vernon's Complete Texas Statutes of 1920 or the Acts of the 36th Legislature, page 78, provides, "It is the duty of the commissioners' court to co-operate with the Live Stock Sanitary Commission," and further on in the same article, "and the said commissioners' courts are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to appropriate moneys out of the general fund of the counties for the purpose of constructing or leasing necessary public dipping vats within their counties, and for the purchase of dipping material, and for the constructing of any other facilities and for the purchasing of any other materials for the hire of labor necessary to destroy the diseases and the carriers herein mentioned."

Under the above law the commissioners' court of our county contemplate the buying of dip, etc., but the HIRING OF ABOUT SEVEN INSPECTORS AT THE COUNTY'S EXPENSE.

Has the commissioners' court the authority to continue to appropriate out of the general fund of this county moneys for the purchase of dip, etc., and especially are they authorized to employ inspectors at a monthly salary?

Article 1473 of Vernon's Complete Texas Statutes of 1920 provides, "The Auditor shall see that the law is strictly enforced." Considering this Article and other articles dealing with the duties and powers of county auditors would I have the authority to question the expenditure of this money, if in my opinion the county was not receiving a benefit commensurate with the amount of money expended.

In other words considering the amount of money previously spent on this project, with no assurance definite that another appropriation will be made in 1922 or at other times, has the commissioners' court of this county the authority under the law to make same?

As stated above in passing on the authority of the commissioners' court to make the appropriation, I will ask that you consider the Article 1473 and other articles dealing with the power and duties of county auditors relative to accounts presented for payment for any work done, and which is a charge against the county.

I trust it will be convenient for you to let me have answer by Tuesday morning of the coming week. Quite a number of the tax payers of this county are interested and an early reply will be appreciated.

Yours very truly,
GILES L. AVRIETT.

Austin, Tex., March 3, 1921.
Honorable Giles L. Avriett,
County Auditor of Milam County,
Cameron, Texas.

Dear Sir:

I have yours of February 19th, addressed to the Attorney General, and also your telegram of February 28th.

Your inquiry reads as follows:

"During the years of 1919 and 1920 there was spent by the commissioners' court of this county approximately $30,000.00 out of the general fund of the county for tick eradication. The county is still under the quarantine and on last Friday the commissioners' court of this county made an appropriation from ten to twelve thousand dollars to carry on the work for the year 1921 to be paid out of the general fund of the county. I am opposed to the appropriation made by the commissioners' court on last Friday on the ground that the court is without authority to continue paying for this work indefinitely, in other words to continue this work year after year means a heavy drain on the general fund of our county and will more than likely result in an increased tax rate during the year 1921.

Article 7314 D, Vernon's complete Texas Statutes of 1920 or the Acts of the 36th Legislature, page 78, provides, "It is the duty of the commissioners' court to co-operate with the Live Stock Sanitary Commission," and further on in the same article, "and the said commissioners' courts are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to appropriate moneys out of the general fund of their counties for the purpose of constructing or leasing necessary public dipping vats within their counties, and for the purchase of dipping material, and for the constructing of any other facilities and for the purchasing of any other materials for the hire of labor necessary to destroy the disease and the carriers herein mentioned."

Under the above law the commissioners' court of our county made the appropriation on last Friday, which does not only contemplate the buying of dip, etc., but the HIRING OF ABOUT SEVEN INSPECTORS AT THE COUNTY'S EXPENSE.

Has the commissioners' court the authority to continue to appropriate out of the general fund of the county moneys for the purchase of dip, etc., and especially are they authorized to employ inspectors at a monthly salary?

ARTICLE 1473 of Vernon's Complete Texas Statutes of 1920 provides, "The Auditor shall see that the law is strictly enforced." Considering this Article and other articles dealing with the duties and powers of county auditors would I have the authority to question the expenditure of this money, if in my opinion the county was not receiving a benefit commensurate with the amount of money expended.

In other words considering the amount of money previously spent on this project, with no assurance definite that another appropriation will be made in 1922 or at other times, has the commissioners' court of this county the authority under the law to make same?

As stated above in passing on the authority of the commissioners' court to make the appropriation, I will ask that you consider Article 1473 and other articles dealing with the power and duties of county auditors relative to accounts presented for payment for any work done, and which is a charge against the county.

I trust it will be convenient for you to let me have answer by Tuesday morning of the same week. Quite a number of the tax payers of this county are interested and an early reply will be appreciated."

The duties of a county auditor are set forth in Chapter 2, of Title 29 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1911 as amended, and said Chapter is carried forward in Vernon's Complete Statutes of 1920.

In a general way it may be said that the duties of the county auditor are to exercise general oversight over all the books and records of county officers or other officers who collect moneys or property for the county. In the exercise of his duties he has access to books, accounts, reports, vouchers and records. It is not our purpose nor is it necessary, to set out in detail the duties of a county auditor under the law. Suffice it to say that his duties are those of an auditor as that term is ordinarily understood, and in determining in a particular instance what authority he may exercise we must take into consideration not only the general nature of the office but also the intent and purpose of the statutes creating the office of county auditor and construe such statutes in the light of such purpose and intent and in connection with our Constitution and laws on this and other subjects.

We find among other provisions relative to the duties of a county auditor the following, which is Article 1473 of the Revised Civil Statutes:

"The auditor shall see that the law is strictly enforced."

It will be admitted that this language is broad, and taken itself the powers of auditor would be unlimited as to law enforcement. However, I do not believe that it could reasonably be contended by any one that the county auditor by reason of this provision has unlimited power as to law enforcement. We must construe this in connection with the nature of the duties of a county auditor, and so far as your inquiry is concerned, in connection with the duties of the commissioners' court under the law relative to tick eradication work.

The commissioners' court under the Tick Eradication Law has certain duties to perform and undoubtedly is given certain discretion in connection with such duties. I call particular attention to the following language in the Tick Eradication Law to be found in Article 7314d of Vernon's Complete Texas Statutes of 1920:

"Art. 7314d. Duties of commissioners' court and county judge.—It shall be the duty of the commissioners' court to co-operate with and assist the live stock sanitary commission in protecting the live stock of their respective counties from all contagious, infectious or communicable diseases, whether such exists within or outside of the county, and in other ways protecting the live stock interest of their counties. It shall be the duty of the said commissioners' court to co-operate with the live stock sanitary commissioner (commission) and the officers working under the authority or direction of said commission in the suppression and eradication of contagious, infectious or communicable diseases. Provided, when it becomes necessary to disinfect any premises under order of the live stock sanitary commission, the county judge shall have such disinfecting done at the expense of the county, and in no case shall the owner, or lessee or tenant of the premises be held answerable to any of the provisions of this Act by reason of the fact that the county fails to disinfect the premises, as herein provided. (Id. sec. 5.)"

This statute gives the commissioners' court specific authority to appropriate moneys out of the general fund of the county for the purpose of constructing or leasing necessary public dipping vats within the county, and for the purchase of dipping material, and for the constructing of any other facilities and for the purchase of any other materials for the hire or labor necessary to destroy the diseases and the carriers mentioned. Provided that for permanent improvements funds may be expended out of the county permanent fund.

The law having in plain terms conferred this authority upon the commissioners' court, the county auditor is without authority to pass upon the necessity or policy of the county making such expenditures. Answering your specific inquiry, therefore, beg to advise that you would not have authority to question the expenditure of any such funds merely because in your opinion the county is not receiving or will not receive a benefit commensurate with the amount of money expended. To hold that you as county auditor have such authority, would be to substitute you for the commissioners' court and thus allow you to exercise authority and discretion conferred by law in plain terms upon the commissioners' court. Nowhere in the county auditor's law or other law do we find any intimation that the county auditor is to substitute his own opinion and discretion with reference to the expenditure of county funds for tick eradication in the place of whatever opinion and discretion the commissioners' court may have to such expenditure."

You further inquire whether the commissioners' court has authority to continue to appropriate out of the general fund of the county moneys for the purchase of dip, etc., and especially whether they are authorized to employ inspectors at a monthly salary.

We answer the first part of this inquiry by saying that your communication does not disclose any reason why the commissioners' court should not continue to expend county funds for such purpose. Not knowing the facts, we cannot pass upon the status of county finances.

As to the employment of inspectors, the law is plain upon this point. Article 7314d of Vernon's 1920 Statutes makes it the duty of the Live Stock Sanitary Commission to appoint the inspectors, but it is the province of the commissioners' court to say how many inspectors are needed and to fix the compensation of such inspectors and to pay such compensation out of the county treasury. In other words the county commissioners' court has no authority to appoint the inspectors but has authority to determine how many inspectors shall be appointed and to provide for the compensation of such inspectors out of the county funds.

Very truly yours,

L. C. SUTTON,

Assistant Attorney General.

County Expert and Director

Later on when the work gets under way, it is the purpose of the County Executive Committee and its officers to ask our Commissioners' Court to defray the expenses of an expert to take over the detail work and visit the different schools and communities of the county and render such advice and assistance as will be necessary to keep the matter actively before the public. No doubt the Court will be glad to assist after they see that we mean business.

The county wide meeting was called at the instance of C. F. Drake, Secretary of the Rockdale Chamber of Commerce, through newspaper and notices. Promptly at the hour named, a number of interested citizens from different parts of the county were called to order by Mayor U. S. Hearrell of Cameron. Mr. A. E. Gray with the Federal extension department with his headquarters at San Angelo, Texas, was introduced and made a splendid talk on the habits, of the rat and customs and damage done in Texas and other States and the different and best ways of getting rid of him; Mr. Gray then answered many direct questions asked about the rat and the proposed campaign and it might be stated here, that the meeting was fortunate in having him as well as the next speaker with us, as they both had long and varied experience with the extermination of the rat in different part of Texas as well as other States and have supervised rat campaigns.

Next was introduced Mr. R. R. Reppert of the A. & M. College extension department and he also gave an interesting talk on the methods used in other Texas counties, where rats by the tons have been killed, starting with our neighborhood county of Williamson. Both men have agreed to render any later assistance that may be needed.

On motion of F. S. Lesovsky, C. F. Drake of Rockdale was elected temporary Chairman of the meeting.

Permanent Organization

On motion of Dr. Tom Denson, permanent organization was voted and adopted. The temporary Chairman then appointed a committee on organization as follows:

J. B. White, Chairman.

Frank S. Lesovsky.

Dr. Tom Denson.

I. N. Roberson.

J. C. Wallace.

To which committee one or two more were later added.

The Committee went into executive session and drew up the plans herein, which were then reported to the regular meeting and adopted. The two gentlemen from the extension department aided and assisted in the formation of the plans and stated that they were the most satisfactory plans to carry out the work in hand as they had worked where many different kinds of plans had been used and the plans adopted were the best parts taken from the different plans tried.

Reason for Thesis

The thesis contest is wanted because it starts the boys and girls to studying methods of killing rats, which he will have to know to do good work in the campaign, then by reading the composition before the class, he imparts his knowledge to other pupils who did not work on the thesis; besides the pupils quizzes his parents about rats in order to be able to write up his subject and in that gets the parents interested and knowing what is going on.

Reason for Other Prizes

Contest arouses spirit in a boy that is most essential and beneficial in his education; he likes it and it is good for him; gets a good reward if he earns it; then the schools want or need some improvement or equipment for their school and the teacher can get the pupils to work for the rats to get the needed funds; then it trains the young to prevent diseases, such as the rat causes. By naming the time in each district, removes all chance for criticism, as no boy would want to hear that another boy in another district got the bigger prize for possibly a less number of rats. Therefore each district must go ahead and push the campaign through as adopted, for if you did not attend, no doubt you may have some correction of criticism, but had you made a thorough investigation into the matter, you would have found and agreed that the plans are the very best to be had.

Bulletins and Literature.

Bulletins and Literature will be furnished by Mr. Gray from his San Angelo office and this will be put into the home of the parents through the pupils in school. The bulletins are from the Federal and State Governments and should be studied by all our citizens and such methods as best adapted to your particular needs and conditions adopted and continued to be used, for the methods are tried and proven in other sections of the State and other States.

Rats Increasing

One rat is supposed to consume $2.00 of feed a year; rats have young four or five times a year with average of eight to a litter; they start having young at four months of age; how long does it take a pair of rats to make a million, get your pencil and you will be surprised that it is a matter of months almost instead of years; Texas now has more rats than any other state in the Union, according to Federal authorities and the rat cannot be permitted much longer; it is absolutely a question of short time before we will have a serious problem; at the cost above mentioned, the rats now cost us more than our present standing army.

Disease

Rats are known to carry disease and plague and when they get so numerous that they can communicate one with the other in an endless chain, then one can readily see how hard it would be to prevent the spread of any disease or plague starting among them; and they are about in shape to make an endless chain in Milam county now.

Time to Kill Rats

The best time to get rid of the rats is at such time when no food is in the fields and when the crib and bin is low, as we can then protect and guard them out of the stored food supply and more readily get results from poison, trap or whatever method is used, for the rat is wise and only hunger will tempt him to take poison bait or spring a trap.

Why an Organized Campaign?

Why is it necessary to organize, why not let each person kill the rats on his place as he sees fit? Because it does very little good for one or two neighbors to kill every rat on his place as his neighbor's rats keep coming on him; but if each neighbor knows that the other is going after rats, then he knows that his labors will be of some good and he does not want to be called a slacker and permit a nuisance on his place to bother his neighbors; therefore it is the only way to get rid of the rat, by an organized and all together movement on a county wide basis.

Clean up your premises, remove all useless and unnecessary rubbish, protect your feed and make it as hard as possible for the rat to get in, then put out the proper kind of poisoned bait, trap, encourage the dog and small boy and show that you are interested in his contest and you yourself go after the rat with a vim and a will that will spell "success."

Georgetown, Texas.
February 18, 1921.

Mr. J. F. Chadwick,
Cameron, Texas.

My dear Mr. Chadwick:

At a recent meeting of the Interscholastic League officers of the 23rd District the following plans were made for the district meet:

Place: Georgetown.

Date: Friday, April 15.

Admission: 25 cents for day events; 25 cents for night finals; contestants and officials admitted free.

All entries must be in the hands of the several directors on or before Monday, April 11.

Tennis contests for both boys and girls will begin at 9:30 and run simultaneously until decided.

In view of the fact that State officials discountenance basket ball contests for girls, such contests will not be held at the district meet.

It is the purpose of the executive committee that all debates and declamation contests be judged by persons without the counties composing the district.

Attention is called to the changes in constitution and rules given on page 11 of the Interscholastic League Bulletin of May 20, 1920.

Leaders in Interscholastic League work recommend that girl contestants be encouraged to dress simply for the meet.

You are requested to give publicity through local newspapers to the foregoing announcements, and to send to the director general at once the addresses of your County League officials.

cials.

Very sincerely yours,
MARY SHIPP SANDERS,
Director General, 23rd District.
